5. NEW BUSINESS

5.1 Draft 2019-2020 Budget Guidelines and Timelines (Discussion/Feedback)

K. Denton spoke to the item.

K. Denton pointed to the minor tracked changes in the document. She emphasized that focused time with the Faculty Education Committees (FECs) is needed because planning and organizing is required to meet the tight timelines of our budget process. Information about the budget will be provided to the College Community via the Budget Newsletter in January. This is the important part of the timeline that needs help from EdCo Council members to draw attention to the Budget Newsletter and begin the process of gathering feedback in time for the EdCo meeting on February 25, 2019.

The Chair added that the final report from EdCo is presented at the March 14, 2019 Board Meeting, which will allow EdCo to have a discussion at the February 25th meeting as long as the FECs are meeting before that date.

Remind the Chairs of FEC to ensure that the FEC Chairs are sending the Budget Newsletter to their Department once it is posted.

ACTION: Please refer this item to your constituency groups for consideration and bring feedback to the October 2018 meeting or provide feedback in writing directly to the Chair.

5.2 Program Revision: Associate of Arts – Intercultural and International Studies

M. Young spoke to the item.

M. Young advised that many of the changes to standardize information and formats for all Associate of Arts Degrees were approved at the June 18, 2018 meeting. The program revisions include two additional courses and reorganization of the course lists to make it clearer for students.

ACTION: Please refer this item to your constituency groups for consideration of approval at the October 2018 meeting.

5.3 Program Revision: Youth Justice

T. Chang spoke to the item.

The Youth Justice curricular framework and curriculum require updating to maximize pathways for students to employment and to further undergraduate education at Douglas College. The revision involves maximizing university transfer credits, indigenization of content, deleting outdated content, ensuring equal representation from both of the Child and Youth Care and Criminology departments and adding pre-requisite requirements to practicum courses.

A question was raised concerning the equivalency of YJWD 1100 and CRIM 2140 and it was clarified that both courses are equivalent for the Youth Justice Program.

Tara also confirmed that students entering into the practicum must meet the C+ grade requirement.

ACTION: Please refer this item to your constituency groups for consideration of approval at the October 2018 meeting.

5.4 Educational Affiliations: Notice of Intent

J. Zhao spoke to the item.
