

Work Experience Form Youth Justice Diploma Program

The Youth Justice Diploma Program at Douglas College prepares students to work with children and adolescents who are experiencing emotional and behavioural difficulties. These difficulties have resulted in their involvement with the Youth Justice System. Graduates are employed in residential, school and community settings.

One entry requirement of the Youth Justice Diploma Program is that applicants complete 60 hours of volunteer or paid experience in a Youth or Justice setting, prior to entry into the program. Applicants are asked to have a supervisor complete the following form, which is submitted with their program application.
