

Caedyn Lennox – Platform Statement

My name is Caedyn Lennox and I am running for the open position of Support Staff Representative on Douglas College's Education Council. Having sat as an alternate on Education Council for the past three months, I have learned that decisions made by this body will inevitably ripple into all facets of the College and impact staff. Therefore, I am running for this position not only for my own interest in educational policy and pedagogy, but to act as a voice for staff and to help keep staff abreast of educational changes which may impact their role and/or department.

A little about myself.

Currently, I work out of the Registrars Office as an Enrolment Service Advisor (ESA). Prior, I worked as the Director of Internal Relations (DIR) for the Graduate Student Society at Simon Fraser University. In my role as an ESA I have familiarized myself with many of the programs, courses, and curriculum offered at Douglas College as well as policies which govern them. As DIR, I was charged with overseeing and maintaining the governing documents of the society. I sat on Executive Committee and chaired the society's Governance Committee which reviewed and developed the society's regulations, by-laws, constitutional language, and other policies which governed the society. It is my belief that my first hand experience with Douglas College programming, paired with my knowledge of governance, regulations, and policy language, makes me an ideal candidate for the position of Support Staff Representative on Douglas College's Education Council.
