

EFFECTIVE: SEPTEMBER 2004
CURRICULUM GUIDELINES

A. Division: Instruction Effective Date: September 2004

B. Department / Program Area: Faculty of Child, Family and Community Studies/
Child and Youth Care Counsellor Revision New Course

If Revision, Section(s) Revised: C

Date of Previous Revision: 2 February, 2004

Date of Current Revision: September 2004

C: CYCC 1220 D: Counselling Children and Youth E: 3

Subject & Course No.	Descriptive Title	Semester Credits
F:	Calendar Description: This course is designed to introduce students to the basic theory and practice of counselling. Emphasis will be placed on the application of active listening skills, with particular emphasis on empathy and the development of a healthy relationship. From the perspective of the practice of Child and Youth Care, students will learn ways of helping and supporting children and youth to explore their issues and to cope with related feelings. Culture and worldview will be viewed as essential elements for understanding and responding to clients.
G:	Allocation of Contact Hours to Type of Instruction / Learning Settings Lecture 60 hours	H: Course Prerequisites: Nil
	Primary Methods of Instructional Delivery and/or Learning Settings: Lecture/practice	I: Course Corequisites: None
	Number of Contact Hours: (per week / semester for each descriptor) 60 Hours	J: Course for which this Course is a Prerequisite Nil
	Number of Weeks per Semester: 15 Weeks	K: Maximum Class Size: 30
	Flexible delivery ranging over 1 to 15 weeks
L:	PLEASE INDICATE: Uvic, UCFV, Malaspina
	<input type="checkbox"/> Non-Credit <input type="checkbox"/> College Credit Non-Transfer <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> College Credit Transfer:
	SEE BC TRANSFER GUIDE FOR TRANSFER DETAILS (www.bccat.bc.ca)

M: Course Objectives / Learning Outcomes

Upon successful completion of this course, the student will be able to:

1. Professional behaviour.
 - demonstrate knowledge of professional ethics and values
 - identify strategies for resolving ethical dilemmas
 - demonstrate knowledge of the difference between personal and professional relationship
 - identify skill strengths and limitations including awareness of the limits of one's expertise
2. Self-Awareness.
 - describe the importance of self-awareness to the helping process
 - describe strategies for increasing self-awareness including establishing conditions for giving and receiving feedback
3. Relationship building skills.
 - define the characteristics of a counselling relationship
 - list the essential relationship-building objectives of each of the four phases of counselling
 - explain the importance of the core conditions of warmth, empathy, and genuineness
 - demonstrate core conditions in a helping interview
 - describe the counselling contract
 - demonstrate the ability to negotiate a counselling contract
 - define and demonstrate immediacy skills
4. Counselling/Interviewing Process.
 - identify counselling and interviewing skills
 - demonstrate ability to classify skills based on purpose, client need and phase of helping
 - describe the circumstances where the use of a particular skill or strategy may be appropriate
 - identify non-helping behaviours
 - list the phases involved in the helping process - preliminary, beginning, action or work, ending
 - describe essential worker tasks and skills for each phase of helping
5. Counselling/Interviewing Skills.
 - demonstrate ability to preplan an interview
 - demonstrate knowledge of non-verbal communication skills
 - demonstrate techniques for gathering information (e.g., open questions, closed questions, probing for specificity and definition)
 - demonstrate ability to maintain the focus of an interview
 - demonstrate ability to listen, summarize and paraphrase
 - demonstrate ability to respond with empathy
 - demonstrate ability to use self disclosure appropriately
 - demonstrate assertiveness
 - demonstrate ability to use confrontation skills appropriately
 - demonstrate knowledge of skills for working with hostile and potentially violent clients
 - demonstrate versatility with a range of skills and strategies
6. Empowerment Skills.
 - describe the elements of empowering clients
 - demonstrate ability to identify and assess problems
 - demonstrate ability to assist clients to set long and short term goals
 - demonstrate ability to assist clients to identify and evaluate strategies for problem solving and goal attainment
 - demonstrate ability to assist clients to implement action plans
 - demonstrate ability to assist clients to evaluate and revise action plans
 - demonstrate the ability to assist clients by reframing
7. Culture and Diversity.
 - define worldview and its importance to counselling
 - explain why realities such as racism and oppression impact counselling
 - identify and explore how the values, beliefs, behaviours, and traditions of diverse populations impact the counselling program
 - adapt counselling strategies to fit the needs of diverse populations

N:	Course Content: The following global ideas guide the design and delivery of this course: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Counsellors need to understand how cultural origin influences their clients' behaviour and worldview. Similarly, they need to be aware of how their own cultural past influences their assumptions and responses. 2. The development of a working relationship is central to the effective counselling of children and youth. 3. The elements of respect, genuineness and mutuality are core elements in the counselling process. 4. Counselling children and youth is holistic and systemic; it takes into account all aspects of the individual and all of his or her important systems. 5. Counselling children and youth is developmental. Success at any given stage is dependent upon the degree to which the tasks of the previous stage have been dealt with effectively. 6. Counselling children and youth may be characterized as thematic, both in terms of the themes central to the life of a specific client and as related to the themes that are central to the life and work of the practitioner. 7. The process of counselling children and youth is aimed at the development of insight and understanding into self, others, and the relationship between self and others. 8. The process of counselling children and youth includes helping the client move from discussion or insight and understanding to action which will enable the client to interact more effectively with his or her important systems. 9. The process of child and youth care counselling is skill based. The effective counsellor understands counselling skills and is able to use them intentionally while remaining genuine and personal in his or her interaction with the client. The process of counselling children and youth is an active one. In addition to discussion it may include other activities and methodologies.
O:	Methods of Instruction Lecture/practice
P:	Textbooks and Materials to be Purchased by Students Shebib, Bob, Choices: Interviewing and Counselling Skills for Canadians, Pearson Education Canada, 2003
Q:	Means of Assessment: This course will conform to Douglas College policy regarding the number and weighting of evaluations. Typical means of evaluation will include a combination of written research assignments, case evaluation, testing, and group presentations.
R:	Prior Learning Assessment and Recognition This course is available for PLAR

Course Designer(s): Ray Chapman, Dave Burgess

Education Council / Curriculum Committee Representative

Dean: Jan Lindsay

Registrar: